OVERVIEW:

Events are an engaging way encourage student involvement in established school activities such as "Meet the Teacher Night" or "Open House." In PBIS Rewards, events can be schoolwide (School Events) or offered by an individual staff member (My Events). An event created in PBIS Rewards allows students to earn or redeem points in the system for their attendance and participation. This way, you can encourage positive behaviors at school functions regardless of time or location!

TYPES OF EVENTS:

Redeeming Events	Qualifying Events	Rewarding Events
Students will redeem or spend points from PBIS Rewards to attend this type of event.	Students must have a certain amount of total points or must have a specified quantity of points tied to a certain expectation ("Respect" or "Responsible" points) to be eligible to attend; however, no points are deducted or redeemed.	Students will earn points for attending or participating in this type of event.

EVENT SETUP:

To create and manage an event, select the Events tab in the Main Menu or from the menu button within the Groups tab. Creating an event requires the following information: event type, event name and description, points required (if a redeeming or qualifying event) or points to be earned (if a rewarding event), attendee limit, event date, and the grade levels eligible to participate in the event.

EVENTS TIPS & TRICKS:

We know that cost is almost always a concern when it comes to events, but that is the beauty of events in PBIS Rewards-- you can often leverage schoolwide events that your campus would be hosting anyway. Just get a little creative and the possibilities are truly endless!

School events like "Academic Night" or "Meet the Teacher" are awesome opportunities for rewarding events because it encourages attendance. Plus, you can give additional points for participating in certain aspects of events once your attendees are there!

School-related volunteer opportunities in or outside of the school day make great events! Does an elementary school in your district need high school volunteers for Field Day? The high school could offer this as a qualifying or rewarding event based on how they would like to structure it.

Who doesn't love a party? Parties make perfect redeeming or qualifying events! For a qualifying event, select a school value that you would like to encourage and set the number of points students must earn to participate. For example, to attend the "Respect Ice Cream Party," students must have at least 25 points.
